Peter Fayne

ROSENBERG & FAYNE - CRIMINAL DEFENSE

Peter Fayne is widely recognized as one of the premier criminal defense attorneys in the area. With over 30 years of trial and legal practice, Peter is experienced in all state and federal criminal defense matters including complex federal fraud and white-collar cases, state and federal violent crime and narcotics cases, as well as DUI and misdemeanor cases. Peter's reputation as a top criminal lawyer has been earned based upon his handling of hundreds of federal and state cases in courtrooms throughout Washington, DC and Maryland, and he has cemented his standing as an exceptional and gifted trial lawyer over the past three decades with major jury trial acquittals in high profile criminal cases. Peter recently won a lengthy jury trial in a murder case in which his client was charged with first-degree murder and 22 other counts in connection with an alleged home invasion slaying. Remarkably, it took the jury only 37 minutes to acquit his client of all 23 counts. In yet another high-profile matter, prosecutors thought they had a strong murder case against Peter's client, as his DNA and fingerprints were found at the crime scene and an eyewitness had identified him as the perpetrator. This challenging and complex trial lasted for a week, but the jury acquitted Peter's client of all charges in less than 90 minutes. As a formidable advocate and litigator, Peter's clients note he is diligent, hard-working, uniquely gifted in front of juries, and that no one is as well prepared or has his presence in a courtroom. As a direct consequence of his success, Peter has had the privilege of representing dozens of prominent figures, and his client roster includes many notable individuals from the worlds of politics, sports, and business.
